The orphanage website has bigger content area. So if there's any photo aligned to the text, it will not look that messy.

For eclub website, our content area only 650px. So if photo bigger than 300px width, it should be put as center instead of left/right align

What and How to Help?

Dear All,

There so many things that you can help us out with the daily activities like preparing the children to go to school, to prepare their breakfast and taking care of the young ones.

You may also help us to maintain the nursery plants by watering them, cutting the old leaves and to make sure that the plants are healthy. If you are good with paper games (origami) that will be a great thing to do. Cooking can be an activity that the older orphans can participate and learn from you. You may help us to over look the whole thing at the orphanage and assist us with your suggestion(s) about how to make things better. You can help us teaching the children about their school work , vocational skills and a basic computer skills, enriching their vocabulary and basic English grammar (which I might be your student

What an amazing world! Advances in technology are happening so quickly that they cause constant changes in our businesses and professions. Yet about one-third of the world's population is still living at a subsistence level with little change in their lives. It is a stark contrast and a cause for concern.

Dear Budi,

I have made some adjustments to the post..

The pictures were all set to <right align>, and that causes the captions/text under the picture not aligning properly. I removed the right align and now is all displaying in order.

For all the pictures, try to set the size to the same width.. (for this post, i set it to 500 width)

Both orphanage wordpress and eclub wordpress are from the same family, so the method to upload post should be the same.

Pls do let me know if you have other ideas to improve.

tq
clarence.

Dear Clarence

It is urgent that we can up load the pictures and to place them properly.

Please have a look at our orphanage's web (www.roslinorphanage.org)

The system is the same but I cannot up load into the Eclub's web like what I can do on our orphanage's web

Is it because of the division of the page into so many pages ?

Please let us know how so we can make a proper up load

I will take down again my 4 hours work rather than to look so messy

Regards

Budi
